OMV and Österreichische Sporthilfe launch long-term partnership for the future of Austrian sport

- Long-term partnership to commence on January 1, 2027
- As Zukunftspartner, OMV will support elite sport in Austria, with a particular focus on young talent
- Joint commitment to sustainable development, prospects, and sporting success

Vienna, October 2, 2026 – OMV and Österreichische Sporthilfe will join forces in a long-term partnership beginning on January 1, 2027. Together, they will support Austrian sporting talent and contribute to the continued development of elite and youth sport. The partnership will focus on Sporthilfe athletes at the beginning of their sporting careers. OMV and Österreichische Sporthilfe will work together to create reliable conditions and long-term prospects, enabling athletes to realize their full potential while combining sporting excellence with personal development and future planning.

Over the coming years, the partners will continuously develop their collaboration and strengthen their shared commitment to elite and youth athletes. Details on the partnership's specific support measures will be announced at a later date.

The partnership reflects a shared commitment that extends far beyond traditional sponsoring. OMV and Österreichische Sporthilfe believe that sporting excellence requires long-term prospects and continuous development. A commitment to performance, perseverance, responsibility, innovative strength, and long-term thinking are values that shape both elite sport and OMV, and form the foundation of this collaboration.

"Performance, team spirit, and a forward-looking approach are values that shape both professional sports and OMV. With this partnership, we are investing in the medalists of today and tomorrow. Together with Österreichische Sporthilfe, we aim to contribute to athletes reaching their full potential and achieving their sporting goals. As an international company rooted in Austria, we are delighted to take an active role in supporting future talent and promoting emerging sports talent in Austria and beyond," says Emma Delaney, CEO of OMV Aktiengesellschaft.

"This partnership sends a strong signal for Austrian sport. Together with OMV, we will establish long-term prospects for athletes and promote especially young talent on their journey to the top. In this way, we will play a key role in ensuring that sporting performance, personal development, and lasting success can go hand in hand," says President of Sporthilfe, Susanne Riess-Hahn.
